

WVBU Agreement and Understanding of Rules: The Bell Clause

I _____, am stating that I have taken the time to read and understand the guidelines and rules of WVBU. By signing this document I am stating that I will abide by the rules of WVBU and will not violate the rules under any circumstance.

By signing this I also realize that I am responsible for any non-DJ who I allow to broadcast on my show. I understand that my non-DJ is my responsibility and that I will be held responsible for any rules or regulations that they may break while on air.

By signing this I also am stating that I have been trained by WVBU and have been made aware of all on-air rules and policies. I understand that if I break any of these rules or policies I will be held solely responsible for my actions and recognize that further discipline may follow as decided on by the WVBU board and Bucknell University. I understand that WVBU is not responsible if I choose to disregard the rules and will not hold them accountable for my mistake or lack of judgment.

I clearly understand that I may never broadcast the following on the air as well as anything the WVBU rules and policies direct.

- Pornographic audio
- Material that directly offends someone based on race, gender, religion, or ethnicity
- Material deemed indecent
- Any material that uses an excess of curses that is not beneficial to the song's meaning

I understand that I am responsible for my speech as well as my guests while on air. This includes anyone that may call into the station as well. I will keep my speech within the guidelines of the WVBU constitution and in respect to the rules and policies of Bucknell University. I understand that my guests and I may never curse while on air.

I also realize that WVBU does not tolerate abuse of speech rights. Anyone who uses on-air time to patronize, demoralize, or slander Bucknell students or staff will be immediately removed. WVBU is a station for Bucknell students and staff and broadcasts should reflect good judgment of morals. If I am unsure if something should be broadcast I will ask a board member before I broadcast it.
